Fowlerville High Marching Band works on new show during camp

The Fowlerville Gladiator Marching Band worked on a new show during camp that was held July 26 through August 4th at the high school. The band is under the direction of Bill Vliek and Amelia Mills. There are 92 students in the marching band.

This year's show is titled "The Land of Sleep and Dreams." It includes music 'Teenage Dream' by Katy Perry, 'Enter Sandman' by Metallica, 'Wake Me Up' by Wham!, and 'Dream On' by Aerosmith. Each year, different sections of the band compete in games like egg toss, musical chairs, and an obstacle course (among others). The games end with a march-off during the band showcase.

The band worked on the various routines for the new show.

VFW honors local post commander Butch Ogden with All-American status

The Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) is pleased to announce that William (Butch) Ogden has achieved All-American status as a Post commander. To achieve this honor, Post commanders must meet strict requirements in their role to include exceptional leadership, authentic accomplishment in membership growth and strong support of VFW core programs.

Ogden, a Legacy Life member and commander of Post 6464 in Fowlerville, is one of 854 VFW Post commanders worldwide to earn the title of All-American commander. His hard work played an integral role helping the organization successfully remain focused on its service to veterans.

"Commanders like William (Butch) Ogden are a fine example of VFW leadership, and it's their hard work and dedication to the mission and values of our organization that has rightly earned them this great honor," said VFW Membership Director Rick Butler.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U.S. is the nation's largest and oldest major war veterans' organization. Founded in 1899, the congressionally chartered VFW is comprised entirely of eligible veterans and military service members from the active, Guard and Reserve forces. There are 1.5 million VFW and Auxiliary members located in nearly 6,000 Posts worldwide. The nonprofit veterans service organization is proud to proclaim "NO ONE DOES MORE FOR VETERANS" than the VFW, which is dedicated to veterans' service, legislative advocacy, and military and community service programs. THANK YOU

FROM GOOD DEEDS COFFEE

Wow! The past few weeks have been incredible to say the least! We wanted to take a moment to extend our gratitude for all of the love and support we've received from the local community and beyond. Venturing into business can be a risky endeavor. To be honest, it can be unsettling at times, amazingly fulfilling at others and everything in-between. In the end (and in the beginning), its success lies on the shoulders of so many...the owner's commitment to see it through, heroic support from their family, friends and the community...the staff. In this case, we're in awe. The support we've received from everyone has been so amazing, but the camaraderie we see between the family, staff and customers is amazing!

To the customers who came in to welcome us to the community over the past few weeks, thank you!

To all of those who share our social media posts, we see you, and we thank you!

To those who came to our ribbon cutting on a somewhat gloomy Saturday morning, you brought the sunshine, and we thank you!

To our staff who simply amaze us every day with their talents, smiles and dedication to what we do and how we do it, thank you!

To our families who endured it all during the many hurdles we had getting to this point...Angela Denby Belanger, Shelby Denby, Fred Denby, Cindy Denby, Vonda Belanger. You are unsung heroes who helped with so many things, and we all know we wouldn't be here without you. Thank you.

To our kids, the loves of our lives...Adrienne, Colton, Ariella, Adeline and Alison. We do it all for you.

Fowlerville High School to celebrate 100 years of football

First two games in 1923 were against Howell

By Bill Call

Fowlerville played their first game on September 20, 1923. The game was played at the Howell field with Fowlerville losing 24-0. The second time FHS played Howell was the very next week on September 27, 1923. This time it was at the Fowlerville Fairgrounds and the outcome was the same, Fowlerville lost by a score of 14-7.

Fowlerville played Howell on and off until 1931, never winning a game. In 1937 the series started again, running until 1954.

The first victory over Howell was by the 1942 Championship Team, with a score of 19-7. Through the first half of the game, the two teams played on even terms, with the first half ending at 0-0. The first score of the game came in the third period on a pass from Fernard Gillis to Cecil Vogt. The extra point try by Cecil Vogt was no good. The second score came early in the fourth quarter on a 20-yard run by Fernard Gillis. A pass from Fernard Gillis to Gilbert Rosstter for the extra point was good. The third score came near the end of the fourth quarter on a 3-yard run by Marvin Grostic. Grostic's kick for the extra point was wide and no good. Howell scored its only touchdown in the middle of the fourth quarter.

Fowlerville did not wait long for their second victory over Howell with that victory coming in 1943 by score of 20-7. The first score came on the sixth play of the game when Marvin Grostic swept around his own left end for 35 yards and a touchdown. A pass for the extra point was incomplete. Grostic scored the other two touchdowns on runs of 30 and 25 yards. He kicked the first extra point, while the other extra point came on a pass from Fernard Gillis to Glover. Howell scored its only touchdown in the third quarter on a punt blocked by O'Connor. He then fell on it in the end zone for a touchdown. The try for the extra point was good.

The two schools continued to play each year until 1954, when for some reason the series was stopped. Fowlerville did tie at 6-6 with Howell during the 1947 game, but did not come close to a victory after that date.

On November 8, 1963, Fowlerville and Howell played once again. The two schools continued to play through the 1982 season, always scheduled as last game of the season. The resumption of the series in 1963 turned out to be an outstanding game as both teams were unbeaten. The crowd was lined all the way around Howell's Page Field standing two-to-three deep. Going by reports in the Nov. 13, 1963, issue of the Livingston County Press, the jam-packed crowd was estimated at 6,000. Fowlerville did have the lead at half time by a score of 7-6. They scored on a 4-yard run by quarterback Gordon Hetrick. The extra point was a kick by Jim Perroud. The second score was a run of 3 yards by Hetrick, with Perroud again kicking the extra point. The game, however, ended with Howell the victor by a score of 19-14.

The next time Fowlerville beat Howell was during the 1965 season with a score of 13-0. Fowlerville came into the game with a record of 4-4, and the ICL Championship. Fowlerville had been waiting since 1943 for a victory over Howell. The first score was in the first quarter on a fumble recovered by Bill Call and returned 93 yards for a touchdown. A run by Rick Dey for the extra point was good. Late in the fourth period Howell attempted to punt from their own 12-yard line, but Joe Ridley and Terry Ganton pushed a Howell lineman into the path of the punt. Fowlerville recovered on the 2-yard line where Larry Sparks took the ball in for the final score. Fowlerville also had wins over Howell during the 1966, 1967, and 1969 seasons.

During the 1970's, Fowlerville won 4, lost 5, and tied 1 against Howell. The 1979 Fowlerville team was the last to defeat Howell in football as the series stopped after the 1982 season. The Gladiators' 1979 season record was only 2-7 with victories over New Lothrop and Howell. The first score of the game was a 3-yard run by Richard Reyhl. The extra point kick was good. The next score was a pass from Dave Bigos to Richard Reyhl. The kick for the extra point was wide and no good. The third and final score was an 11-yard run by Glen Webb. The kick for the extra point was good, making the final score 20-6 in favor of Fowlerville.

My understanding for the series not being played after the 1982 year was due to the MHSAA playoff rules. With the point system in place, Howell would be much better off playing a larger school than Fowlerville.

A highlight of the Fowlerville-Howell football series was the 1963 contest when both teams were undefeated going into the last game of the season. Played at Howell's Page Field, an estimated 6,000 fans attended. The final score was 19-14 in the Highlanders' favor. This is the team photo of the Gladiator varsity from that season.

Night Time Music

By Susan Kretchman

I'm not what people would describe as a "morning person". I am embarrassed to admit that in my younger years my mood for an entire day could be determined by how or when I was awakened. I also enjoyed sleeping in until mid-morning when my mother wasn't around to choose otherwise (that's another whole blog). But, I've matured (I think) and have actually grown to love and embrace mornings especially when the sun is shining, filling our bedroom with the light and warmth from its majestic radiance.

I have always enjoyed the beauty of nature whether it was as a child watching ants work to build a home and gather crumbs for their food store or trapping crickets to have a collection of "pets". I also was an eager assistant for digging up nightcrawlers with a neighborhood boy named David; his family had a cottage at Houghton Lake and were avid fishermen.

Perhaps my greatest enjoyment is listening to the songbirds that come to visit our pine trees and the many insects that have taken up residency in our shrubs, flower beds, and lawn. I've noticed that the birds are most active between 5 and 6 am. The conversations that I'm privy to as I begin to wake are most delightful. I love to imagine what they are talking about as each voice joins with another. Perhaps they are beckoning or announcing the promise of a new day..... a new food source..... or warnings of natural predators..... or are they responding to a Biblical command: "Praise the Lord from the earth, you great sea creatures and all the depths.... beasts and all cattle; creeping things and flying fowl." (Psalm 148) I marvel that these small creations of God's nature are obedient to their purpose.

Earlier this week we enjoyed (and still are) watching various butterflies coming to feast on our butterfly bush. The wonder of their fluttering wings is a sight to behold and even more enjoyable is that we can approach ever so cautiously and these lovelies don't become afraid and fly off and away to another plant. We have been diligent in placing a hummingbird feeder on the porch but low and behold the annual visitors prefer the nectar provided by a hanging plant in full bloom. Some of these tiny birds have even hovered in front of the window either confused or admiring the reflection, all the while providing us a bit of brief entertainment.

As much as daytime hours provide abundant appreciation of the birds who come to our yard, I think the evening music is by far my favorite of all. Upon the setting of the sun a choir made up of numerous insects comes to life. I'm often entertained by a particular song piece that was an echo... first one group chirped a few lines and the second group answered... with its own melody. This back-and-forth concert lasted about half an hour. The song changed as the second group quieted and the first group continued with their performance.

When we've had a lot of rain which fills the ditch along our road, we get to enjoy the bellows of frogs. With the level of noise this section of the nighttime choir makes, it causes me to wonder "just how many frogs does it take to be that loud?"

It strikes me that the music of the nighttime choir helps to lull me into restful sleep and then with the same peaceful feeling be gently awakened by the morning vocalists. The words will forever be a mystery to me and yet a glimpse into understanding them may come from Lamentations 3:22-23

"Through the Lord's mercies we are not consumed, because His compassions fail not. They are new every morning; Great is Your faithfulness."

I'm thankful that all of creation responds with heartfelt gratitude for a new day, and their proclamation song fills my heart and my day with a beauty that is consistent and varied-fading from day to evening and evening ushering in a brand new day complete with a revised version of "God's new mercies...."

U.S. Congress Report

By Elissa Slotkin,
7th District, U.S. House of Representatives

Farm Bill earns widespread support from Michigan agriculture leaders

U.S. Rep. Elissa Slotkin (MI-07) has introduced bipartisan legislation with widespread stakeholder support to bolster Michigan specialty crops. Endorsed by 11 Michigan agriculture organizations from across the state, the Specialty Crop Security Act would expand and enhance the current Specialty Crop Block Grant program (SCBGP), which provides dedicated federal assistance grants to specialty crop growers through state agriculture departments for a wide array of projects.

Specialty crops – which include fruits, vegetables, and tree nuts, among other critical products – represent a significant portion of Michigan’s agricultural output and are critical to the state economy. The Specialty Crop Security Act is cosponsored by Republican Rep. Lori Chavez-DeRemer (OR-5) and would:

- increase funding for the Specialty Crop Block Grant Program by $15 million to $100 million a year;
- strengthen state plan requirements to ensure grant administrators properly communicate their stakeholder outreach and engagement efforts; and
- reinforce the program’s primary purpose of enhancing the competitiveness of specialty crop producers.

“From apples, to asparagus, to cherries, Michigan farmers grow much of the delicious and nutritious produce Americans love and depend on,” said Slotkin. “By expanding grant opportunities for specialty crop growers, this legislation will benefit Michigan agriculture and consumers. Expanding specialty crop markets and ensuring the long-term success of producers will pay serious dividends, which is why this bill has been endorsed by 11 different Michigan agriculture organizations from across the state and industry.”

“Over 170 different specialty crops are grown in Oregon’s vibrant Willamette Valley, and I’m honored to represent many of these producers. They are responsible for growing a variety of healthy and nutritious food that feeds families across the country and around the world. Unfortunately, specialty crop growers often face a number of unique and challenging conditions that make it more difficult to remain competitive in the global marketplace. That’s why I’m joining Congresswoman Slotkin to introduce the Specialty Crop Security Act, which will help bolster Oregon’s robust specialty crop industry,” said Chavez-DeRemer.

Since it was first authorized in 2004, the SCBGP has funded 11,331 projects totaling nearly $1 billion. Its operations have supported the long-term success of U.S. producers and broadened the market for specialty crops at home and abroad.

As the specialty crop industry confronts new and existing challenges, increased funding for the SCBGP would strengthen the program to the benefit of growers in Michigan and across the country.

The Balance in Historical Honesty

Last week, we spoke very generally about the pitfalls of falsely positive or negative representations of history. The points are indeed generalizable, but this week, I want to get a bit more specific with applications to our American history. This is relevant because most people are interested to some degree with how the past is characterized. As humans, we are rarely satisfied with the moment. We want to know how we got here and ponder where we are going. Through this fascination with legacy, we make the past a part of who we are.

In that sense, history is more than a list of dates and facts. If that was the extent of history, then it would hardly be contentious or controversial. Rather, we assign significant personal and cultural meaning to those dates and facts. We characterize the past by selecting which stories to tell in detail and which to include only as a footnote, and we refine those characterizations through the style of retelling. We register some events barely as mile markers on the highway of history, while others are memorialized as lore that is central to family or cultural identity.

It is exactly that, history's effect on identity, that makes it so potent. Stereotypically, Americans associate closely with our national identity, so it is no surprise that we care a great deal about how the characterization of our history contributes to that identity. That relationship leads to challenging dynamics. There are plenty of imperfections in America's history, just as there are in the past of any nation. Those sympathetic to the harms want to bring those events to light, but that seemingly endangers our historical identity.

Except, that does not need to be the case. Those two approaches to history need not conflict. As addressed last week, the problem is reliance on the extremes of rosy retrospection on the one hand and unbounded assumptions of nefarious intent on the other. Both are forms of historical revisionism, and both should be avoided. The key is to accept that both characterizations of history, the kind that recognizes imperfections and the kind that celebrates greatness, work in tandem with each other. Rather than fighting for one over the other, historical characterization is at its best when these two perspectives mesh to tell a complete story.

That is not to say this balance is easy or convenient, but it is achievable. The first step is to embrace that honesty is the best policy. We cannot grow as a country if we deceive ourselves, and indeed, moral growth should be the goal in this discussion. In order to be a more perfect union, we must first be honest with ourselves. Understanding the problem is a requirement for fixing the problem, and that means identifying imperfections, whether they were simply mistakes or outright evil. However, doing so should lead to corrective actions. There is an unhealthy human tendency to point out mistakes in others just to make ourselves feel better. If there is no lesson learned or corrective action, then pointing out mistakes in others does nothing but falsely distract our own consciences. After all, none of us are perfect. If we are reflecting on the failures of others, how much more should we consider our own lives? How can we be better, kinder, more helpful, more productive? How can we be doers of good?

But as covered ad nauseum, being honest about the past does not exclude positive reflections of history. We can still value the ideals of a good American identity and preserve legends to pass on to our children and grandchildren. In that way, the goal of producing a more perfect union remains at the forefront.

The ideals guide us. Great deeds of the past inspire us. And imperfections teach us how to be better. This is a balanced and productive approach to history.

Letter to the Editor

In Livingston County, school boards with extremist majorities are pushing through discriminatory school policies. Stand Against Extremism LivCo (SAGE) is a group dedicated to taking action that supports a safe and inclusive community for all people here in Livingston County regardless of individual identity or political affiliation. We stand firmly against increased efforts to promote hate and divisive ideology in our schools.

Issues facing Fowlerville Community Schools such as policy #8805 (Flags and Displays) are not isolated only to this district, and therefore, we stand in solidarity as a county-wide movement. SAGE emphasizes education and shares trusted sources of information to help combat the misinformation and disinformation campaigns fueling the culture wars in our area. We acknowledge that someone's existence is not political and that everyone deserves basic human rights. The current attack is on our LGBTQ+ students, but we know that this opens doors for discrimination and harm to ALL of our marginalized kids. One of our goals is to prevent "othering" for students and staff who are among the more vulnerable populations, those who do not receive equal representation within our public schools. ALL families in Livingston County deserve access to safe and inclusive spaces within our school communities.

If you are concerned about extremist views and policies overriding basic human values of inclusion, acceptance, compassion, tolerance, and equity within our schools, then YOU will want to get connected with SAGE. There are many ways to be involved in creating positive changes in our county, and we encourage others to join us in our action movement as we continue to network and discuss ideas on long term goals to help keep our public schools in Livingston County inclusive and accepting of ALL.

Our country is going down fast. If you don't think so, just look around. Unelected bureaucrats are running the government, anarchy and violence are rewarded by the Democrats, and we have the worst, most decrepit president in history living in the White House. The Department of Justice is being misused as a weapon against conservatives and "nonprofit" government agencies, which have no Congressional oversight, are punishing and rewarding businesses according to their own woke and green agendas. Those true representatives of the voters find their hands are tied.

Well, as interested as I am in politics, politics will not solve our dilemma. We need God's help. II Chronicles 7:14 says, "If MY people, which are called by MY NAME, shall humble themselves and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land."

Those of us who call ourselves Christians must repent of sin and selfishness and seek God's mercy. His people have largely forgotten Him and just gone on their worldly ways. He is the only One who can deliver our nation from this mess, and we are the ones who will make the difference.

If you want to talk about the indictment, you should first read it.

Everyone has an opinion about Trump's indictment for election interference, but how many of us have read it?

I finally took the time (an hour) to read the 45-page document (formatting expanded the length).

This indictment is one of the most important defenses of our democracy and our Constitution ever.

Trump characterizes this indictment as "election interference," when the indictment clearly establishes that HE is the one who actively interfered through his months-long attack on the peaceful transfer of power following a legitimate election. It is also clear who "weaponized" the Department of Justice, the VP, state and federal legislatures, and anyone else he could bully. The 2020 election was the most scrutinized presidential election ever, and it was found to be legitimate, accurate and lawful, even after all of Trump's false attacks and failed lawsuits.

Read it . . . the truth will maintain freedom for all of us.

—Area Deaths—

John Hugh Fuller

John Hugh Fuller, age 59, of Fowlerville MI passed away on Friday, August 4th, 2023. John was born in Howell MI on December 12th, 1963, the son of James B. Fuller & Joanne J. (Austin) Fuller. On April 27th, 1985, he married Cheryl Lynn Woolworth in Morrice MI. They lived in Fowlerville MI for 38 years and in 1990 their daughter Jessica was born and then in 1994 their son Jonathon.

John was one-of-a-kind and had a heart of gold and he would give you the shirt off his back even if he had to go without. He loved hunting and fishing and he made some real good venison jerky and chili. He was the owner of John Fuller Logging for 12 years and was a logger for 42 years and his son worked for him for 11 out of the 12 years. He loved working on many projects with his son & hanging out with his friends drinking beer in his shed and he loved his family and would do anything for them.

In his younger years he liked getting into a lot of trouble with all of his friends, speeding up and down back roads and having a good time. He was a great man and will be missed dearly by everyone.

He is survived by his wife Cheryl, their children Jessica Fuller (Bruce Badura) of Fowlerville & Jonathon Fuller (Christina Whitt) of Fowlerville, two brothers Mike (Susan) Fuller of Flushing MI and Justin Fuller of Wyoming MI and many nieces and nephews.

John will be cremated with a memorial celebration at a later date. The family was served by Herrmann Funeral Home of Fowlerville.

You're So Far Away

By Jace Arledge

Cell phones, texting apps, Zoom, Twitter, Facebook, Snapchat, Instagram, TikTok... So many ways we are connected, yet distant. I remember my 11th grade year; our computer class was learning how to create games... you know the C://run?? If you did it correctly you would have a little "green" dot go around the screen. Some of my friends were brilliant and created a lot more. This was 1982.

I knew times were starting to change. Even though cable television was started in 1948, it wasn't until 1989 when approximately 53 million households had a subscription. I was 23, had already lived my childhood missing cartoons and shows if I wasn't home (no way to TIVO yet).

We had microwaves for convenience, remotes to change channels—all great things, or were they? It seems that during these wonderful new discoveries, we lost something along the way. HUMANITY....

Gone were the Sunday family dinners, long talks on the telephone (with the 25-foot cord so you could have a private conversation), dinners around the table with family, visiting your neighbors.

Growing up, there weren't constant things for kids to do such as travel teams and, if and when you played a summer sport for the community rec, it was all fun and not so much pressure to ALWAYS win. It was the joy of the game and playing with your friends that made it worthwhile.

My reason for bringing these things up in this article is that the talk or scuttlebutt you continually hear is "we need to get back to the old days," "focus on the old ways." I'm sorry, but many would not be able to put down their cell phones, talk to their neighbors, call people on the telephone, stop watching social media, create Sunday family dinners, stop enrolling children in an endless stream of sports activities, or even have home-cooked meals and forgo fast food.

Folks think that the "old days" were easy, or easier. I can tell you that they were, but not for the reason many think. There is so much pressure put on people today, especially kids. Must be the best, and if you are mediocre, we will find you a special coach or spend multiple hours doing drills, working out and whatever else it takes for you to be a champion! Wow, if only a small part of that time was spent on understanding and getting to know those who are different than you. Inviting the neighbor that you DON'T know or reaching out to the new family that moved in. So many things to bring everyone closer.

I recall a song by Carole King "So Far Away." She wrote such elegant, deep meaningful lyrics that touched MANY hearts. We can see with these lyrics:

*So far away
Doesn't anybody stay in one place anymore?
It would be so fine to see your face at my door*

*Doesn't help to know you're just time away
Long ago, I reached for you and there you stood
Holding you again could only do me good
How I wish I could, but you're so far away*

Remember, the only thing that's constant is CHANGE. YOU be the CHANGE you wish to see in the WORLD. Stay kind and LOVE unconditionally Til Next Time. . .

Hello Webberville Families,

Webberville Middle and High School has been busy preparing all summer for students to arrive. We are excited to see the students on August 14.

This year our building staff will be focusing on the 4 C's: Commitment, Communication, Connections, and Cooperation. We want all of our SPARTAN students and families to feel like they are part of our family and will work to accomplish this by being intentional about the 4 C's. In addition, we want our students to have more opportunities for expressing themselves and being an active participant in our school improvement process.

This year at Webberville Middle and High School we will have a Student Advisory Team. This team will be made up of a diverse group of high school students that will meet with the principal monthly to discuss school improvement and building policies and procedures. The team already met with Mrs. Kiernan in August and provided student input about our student handbook. All the staff here at Webberville value all students' ideas and opinions and want students to know they belong and that their voice matters.

All of the staff are looking forward to a fantastic 2023-2024 school year.

Jeannette Kiernan

Principal, Webberville Middle and High School
Special Education Coordinator, Webberville Schools
Director of Curriculum and Instruction, Webberville Schools

Social Security Questions & Answers

Question: How do I apply for disability benefits? How long does it take to get a decision after I apply for disability benefits?

Answer: You can apply for disability benefits online at www.ssa.gov/benefits. To get a decision on your disability application usually takes three-to-five months. The time frame can vary depending on:

- The nature of your disability.
- How quickly we can get your medical evidence from your doctor or other medical source.
- Whether it's necessary to send you for a medical examination.

• Whether we review your application for quality purposes. Create or sign in to your personal my Social Security account at www.ssa.gov/myaccount to check your claim status.

Question: I am expecting a child and will be out of work for six months. Can I qualify for short-term disability?

Answer: No. Social Security pays only for total disability — conditions that render you unable to work and are expected to last for at least a year or end in death. No benefits are payable for partial disability or short-term disability, including benefits while on maternity leave.

Question: I have been getting Social Security disability benefits for many years. I'm about to hit my full retirement age. What will happen to my disability benefits?

Answer: When you reach "full retirement age," we will switch you from disability to retirement benefits. But you won't even notice the change because your benefit amount will stay the same. It's just that when you reach retirement age, we consider you to be a "retiree" and not a disability beneficiary. To learn more, visit www.ssa.gov.

'Music at the Park' to feature Matthew Ball—The Boogie Woogie Kid with his piano playing and American Songbook

Matthew Ball bills himself at the Boogie Woogie Kid, referring to his style of piano playing, and will be playing selections from the American Songbook.

His performances are offered on You Tube and, as he noted, there have been over 5 million views.

Ball is coming to the Fowlerville Community Park this Tuesday, August 15, as part of the 'Music at the Park' Summer Series. The outdoor concert will be held at the Glover Amphitheatre, starting at 7 p.m. and lasting about an hour-and-a-half.

The show will feature New Orleans and the Swing Era favorites, including 'In the Mood', 'Let's Call the Whole Thing Off', 'It had to be You', 'When the Saints Go Marchin In', 'Basin Street Blues', and 'On the Sunny Side of the Street'.

A review from the Nardin Park Concert Series on Ball's show stated "An absolutely wonderful concert, tremendous virtuosity combined with crowd-pleasing repertoire, our audience loved every minute."

Ball is a graduate from Oakland University where he studied classical piano and is a lifelong resident of Metro Detroit. He has performed overseas, in Canada and in 15 states, along with appearing on several television programs in Michigan.

"From the reviews we've read and hearing his You Tube performances, Matthew Ball puts on a very entertaining show and we're looking forward to welcoming him to Fowlerville," said Dawn Horton, organizer of the local 'Music at the Park' Summer Series.

The show is being sponsored by the Rotary Club of Fowlerville. The rain date is Wednesday, August 16th.

Michigan House Report

By Bob Bezotte,
50th District

One of the most heartwarming parts of my job as a legislator is getting to pay tribute to the many men and women who contribute to our community. I recently had the opportunity to recognize four outstanding individuals for their dedication to Livingston County.

Dale Brewer, John Conely, Robert Paul Rodriguez-Pelizzari, and Jason Woolford each recently received state tributes for their work, and I also wanted to take a moment to recognize them here.

Dale Brewer has played a pivotal role in helping bring war memorials to Livingston County over the past several years, including walls honoring veterans from World War II and the Vietnam and Korean wars. I also greatly appreciate Dale's continual dedication to bringing awareness to the needs of veterans and their families and making sure they receive the respect they deserve. I hope we all learn to follow Dale's example and consistently look for ways to show gratitude to veterans and their families.

John Conely has contributed immensely to the lives of students and families throughout Livingston County for decades as an educator, school board member, and volunteer. He taught special needs students at Brighton High School in the 1980s before joining Pinckney High School in 1991 to teach Intro-Advanced Automotives. Working in the school system, John saw areas that needed improvement. Wanting to be a part of that change, John ran for school board in 2010. John has always been a man with a vision, a man who cares about students and is dedicated to their welfare. I am beyond grateful for everything he has done for our students.

Robert Rodriguez-Pelizzari played a pivotal role in getting the 2A movement started in Livingston County. Robert works endlessly to advocate for our Second Amendment rights and help keep Livingston County safe and free. I greatly appreciate all his efforts, his continual dedication, and the sacrifices he endures and puts forth to ensure we keep this fundamental right.

Rev. Jason Woolford is one of the most outspoken, dedicated, loving, faith-filled people you will ever meet. He is a man of many names. A father, a marine, a businessman, and a pastor. He is the president of Mission Cry, which has sent out more than $400 million in free Bibles and Christian teaching tools to more than 178 different counties. Rev. Woolford never shies away from standing up for what he believes is right and speaking out for the truth.

If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to reach out to my office by calling (517) 373-3906 or emailing RobertBezotte@house.mi.gov. I am always happy to hear from people in our community.

Michigan Supreme Court strikes down provisions in auto insurance reform law that retroactively cut care benefits

By Steve Horton

The Michigan Supreme Court by a 5-2 vote has struck down provisions in the auto insurance reform law that retroactively cut care benefits for severely injured auto-crash survivors.

The state's highest court ruled those injured before the 2019 reform law was passed and receiving care—estimated to be between 17,000-to-18,000 people—should be protected from cuts lawmakers included in the bill. Those reductions included limiting the reimbursement for family members and friends taking care of crash victims to 56 hours a week and reducing the fee schedule for care providers by 55 percent of what they had been charging. Care providers included professionals coming to a patient's home or a facility that specialized in housing and treating survivors—often those with brain injuries or who are paralyzed.

While the goal of the law was to bring down costs and reduce auto-insurance premiums for motorists, the collateral damage has included survivors losing their care or having that level of care downsized, other victims of auto accidents being denied full reimbursement for needed equipment (such as wheel chairs), facilities no longer accepting survivors and discharging the ones they had, and several care providers going out-of-business.

The Court said that “the Legislature did not clearly state that it intended the new fee schedule in MCL 500.3157(7) or the new attendant care limitations in MCL 500.3157(10) to apply retroactively to individuals with a vested contractual right to PIP benefits under the pre-amendment no-fault statutes, which means that these provisions do not apply to any insured who was injured while covered by an insurance policy issued before June 11, 2019.”

Prior to the bill's passage, Michigan motorists were required to have auto insurance which included unlimited lifetime medical coverage if they were injured. Under the reform law, they can now choose a level of protection that includes $50,000 for drivers on Medicaid; $250,000; $500,000; unlimited; and an opt-out for drivers on Medicare. However the unlimited coverage is still subject to the limits in hourly attendant reimbursement and the provider's fee schedule.

The court's ruling only applies to those who qualified for the lifetime care prior to the law being enacted and had an insurance policy. It does not apply to those injured after that date—a number estimated at around 15,000 people—or to uninsured people who were injured in a car crash before June 11, 2019.

Survivors, their families, and care providers had lobbied the Legislature for changes after the benefit cuts went into effect on July 1, 2021 and the collateral damage became more and more evident. There were several organized demonstrations at the State Capitol, with survivors appearing at the offices of lawmakers.

While there were bi-partisan proposals put forth, including one by Rep. Bob Bezotte who represents this area of Livingston County, the leadership in the Republican-controlled House and Senate declined to consider any changes. Attempts to hold committee hearings were rejected and the House Speaker at the time said that a floor vote would not be taken during that 2021-2022 session.

Failing to get a legislative remedy, the coalition turned to the courts. The plaintiffs who filed the challenges to the benefit cuts found success last August when a Michigan Appeals Court panel ruled that the reductions did not apply to those who were receiving treatment prior to the reform law's enactment. The decision, as expected, was sent onto the Supreme Court who's majority affirmed that finding.

For most catastrophically injured car crash survivors, the money for their medical bills comes from the Michigan Catastrophic Claims Association, or MCCA, which acts as a form of reinsurance that reimburses auto insurers once the size of a patient's no-fault bills exceeds a set threshold, currently $600,000. Part of the insurance premium that a motorist pays for each vehicle that's insured goes into this fund.

As expected, those who sought a remedy to the benefit cuts applauded the ruling, including legislators who had sought changes in the reform law.

One of them, State Rep. Julie M. Rogers (D-Kalamazoo), issued the following statement:

“Today's ruling by the Michigan Supreme Court is a welcome relief to crash survivors and their families. Patients should have never been subjected to a loss of health care and necessary services to treat these terrible injuries. I stand ready to work with my colleagues to address the deficiencies in the 2019 law which are not addressed by this ruling. Those injured after 2019 are still struggling with arbitrary caps and cuts in their care.”

A spokesperson for the auto insurance industry had a different take on the court decision.

In a statement, Erin McDonough, executive director of the Insurance Alliance of Michigan, an industry group that represents car insurance companies, called the ruling “a huge setback for Michigan's 7.2 million drivers, small businesses and the state's economy.”

McDonough said the court's decision will allow care providers to overcharge, and that will increase insurance rates for everyone, stating that “Today, the court let down consumers across Michigan and opened the floodgates for overcharging for medical procedures and higher rates.”

While the issue will likely be brought up in the Legislature, there may also be further court proceedings. News reports indicated that even after the Appeals Court panel ruled against the benefit cuts, survivors and care providers claimed they were experiencing problems in having services paid for or reimbursed—which was a major complaint after the reform law went into effect.

Michigan Governor's Report

By Gretchen Whitmer

I am committed to building a Michigan where everyone can live a safe, healthy life.

That's why I signed a historic bipartisan budget that makes key investments to strengthen health care access, close equity gaps, and make Michigan the best place to raise a family.

Let's talk about how the 2024 budget makes meaningful investments in health care to support families, expand access, and improve outcomes.

Supporting Families

- $56.4 million to fund Healthy Moms, Healthy Babies, a bipartisan initiative that supports pregnant women, new mothers, and infants to help make Michigan a state where you can decide when to start a family and have the support you need to have a safe pregnancy, delivery, and infancy.
- $10 million to create a new foster care respite care program to provide temporary, occasional relief to foster parents.
- $6.2 million to fund the Medicaid Plan First! program, expanding access to family planning services and cancer screening and saving 25,000 Michiganders an average of $2,000.

Expanding Access

- $279.7 million to expand Certified Community Behavioral Health Clinics which serve anyone who requests care for mental health or substance use, regardless of their ability to pay.
- $150.6 million to increase reimbursement rates for Medicaid services to improve enrollee access to necessary health care.
- $4.9 million over 2 years for Double-Up Food Bucks, boosting access to fresh fruits and vegetables for Michiganders on food assistance.

Improving Outcomes

- $49.5 million to implement recommendations from the Racial Disparities Task Force, including neighborhood health grants, mobile health units, sickle cell support and more.
- $140.1 million to increase wages for direct care workers and other staff assisting those with disabilities and seniors who require home-based and nursing home services and support.
- $25 million increase in support to local health departments to provide essential services.

Every Michigander deserves access to high quality, affordable health care, and we will continue to do everything in our power to make that goal a reality.

We are on the way to a healthier and stronger Michigan and together, we will help anyone ‘Make it in Michigan’.

Williamston Farmers Market to feature special exhibit by Nature Discovery

The Eastern Ingham Farmers Market wraps up National Farmers Market Week and features a special exhibit by Nature Discovery, bringing their largest Michigan Snake, Turtle, Frog, Salamander, Butterfly and Moth, this Sunday, August 13, in Williamston. Last Sunday's Market was very rainy, so Nature Discovery was given a rain check. Now, visitors who stayed home last week have a second chance to see this educational exhibit on Sunday.

The Market in Williamston is open between 10am and 2pm in McCormick Park's large parking lot.

The vendors continue to bring a wider variety of local produce each week, and 30 vendors are expected this Sunday in Williamston, selling tomatoes! sweet corn! zucchini! yellow squash, cucumbers, all kinds of lettuce, spinach, Swiss chard, microgreens, green onions, and herbs such as parsley, chives, cilantro, garlic, potatoes, carrots, snap peas, eggplant, home-baked sugar cookies, and baked goods.

Also, local meat including poultry, lamb, beef, pork, jerky and brats, eggs, canned sauces, canned vegetables including mushrooms, canned marinara sauce, regular and spicy pickles and spicy sauces, honey, maple syrup, prepared food to eat on site or to take home, including ice cream as well as sandwich wraps, cheese, jams, doll clothes, hand-crafted jewelry, home and yard crafts and fabric items, beautiful wood products, and so much more! The vendors proudly bring their unique products from their farms, gardens, kitchens, craft rooms and workshops.

Bring the kids to the children's craft booth "Seedlings and Sprouts" to make the day's craft, and while you shop, they can move to the POP Club activity, that is, the Power of Produce Club for elementary-school-aged kids, that features an educational and fun fruits and vegetables-related activity at each Sunday Market in August. Registration is required and can be completed at the Market. The POP Club schedule for the remainder of August is:

- August 13th – Understanding the growing and harvest seasons: when fruits and vegetables are ready to come to Market.
- August 20th – Expanding appreciation for local produce.
- August 27th – Preparing and storing produce from Market vendors.

This year, the POP Club has expanded its curriculum to include a segment on the natural science of trees due to the generosity of an Arbor Day contribution from the Williamston Red Cedar Garden Club. Each week, children participating in the POP Club will receive $2 in tokens to shop for produce at the Market and receive a stamp in their Passbook for completing the lesson of the day. Examples of POP Club activities include identifying fruits and vegetables by sight, feel, or taste; scavenger hunts for fruits and vegetables in vendor booths; and learning simple recipes using Market produce. On the last meeting date, the children will be given their Passbook, a recipe for home completion, and the free book "The Magic & Mystery of Trees". This program is sponsored by Sowing Growth and WW Grainger.

Also at this week's Market, visitors are encouraged to stop by the Pollination Station Community Service booth, and chat with representatives of the Red Cedar River Celebration upcoming event.

Michigan-returnable bottles and cans are collected at every Market. It is the most successful fundraiser of Sowing Growth, the non-profit that operates the Market. Load up your car and drop off your bottles and cans at the "Bottleground", any Sunday between 10am and 2pm for this win-win weekly event. If your business collects bottles and cans, consider donating them as well. Special collections can be made directly at your business address during the week. Just call or email any member of the Sowing Growth Board of Directors (listed on the website: www.EasternInghamFarmersMarket.org) or contact the Market Manager Tom Cary to make arrangements for special pick-ups.

Musicians Welcome
The Market ambience also includes live music performed by volunteers each Sunday for 2-hour gigs. This Sunday, Mellow Market Music will be provided in the morning by guitarist, singer and songwriter Scott Thacher from 10am to noon, then the afternoon music will be provided by D.J. Clarinet. Have a seat in the Spotted Goat Lounge with your purchases and relax and sing along for a set or two.

For more information about Sowing Growth, the non-profit organization that operates the Eastern Ingham Farmers Market in Williamston, to become a vendor, to be added to the newsletter email list, to volunteer or to donate to the Market, visit the Market website www.EasternInghamFarmersMarket.org, visit its Facebook page or contact Market Manager Tom Cary (517-618-1630) or EasternInghamFM@gmail.com.
